

AYDEN

5 YEARS OLD

Diagnosed with B-Cell Lymphoblastic
Leukemia July 2018

Ayden was diagnosed with B-Cell Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia, after falling and hurting his leg.

Cancer has definitely changed our family, we are not always able to just get up and to do things, our daily routines have changed and we have to remember medicines, masks, and hand sanitizers. Cancer, Steroids, Mercaptopurine, Neutropenia, are all normal words in our household and used among all of our children.

Ayden loves to play and watch baseball! He loves dinosaurs and cars!

Cancer has made us so much more grateful for all that we have and reminds us each day to be thankful for each moment we all have with each other!

Ayden takes on every day with a smile and he is the strongest person we know. Every day he inspires us to keep on going no matter what life throws our way!

Think about all the smiling faces you have helped while you run or walk!
